SECURITY INNOVATION

BRIEF INTRODUCTION

Lam Lha is both a lab and a consultancy.

We track the evolution of security technology and practice to better anticipate tomorrow's challenges and opportunities.

MISSION

We support our community in understanding current trends, innovations, and needs to build more future-proof solutions. We aim to accelerate business growth and security through new approaches and deliberate engagement, at the right time.

INERTIA

Your high performers are passive for fear of rocking the boat. You need a fresh perspective from a team who knows the homeland security industry, and isn't afraid to roll up their sleeves.

BLACK BOX

You know that your product or service has the potential to transform the aviation/border markets, but you're having a hard time understanding government decision-making. You are looking for a team to decode what government stakeholders want and how you can help.

BLANK SHEET

You aim to develop a new concept, strategy, or product and you're unsure where to begin.

You are keen on hiring an innovative team to help you sketch the future – but you need a partner who understands operational and regulatory realities.

EXTRA HORSEPOWER

You're under deadline
to deploy a new process,
or take advantage of an emerging
market opportunity.

Every day counts.

You need a group of "doers"
steeped in security to help you cross the finish line first.

UNCHARTERED WATERS

You're an established company,
but just entering the homeland security market. Or, you're a start-up and you're struggling to fit in. You need industry insiders to guide you and help you prioritize resource spend for maximum ROI.

ANGEL IN THE DETAILS

You fear you might be missing something in the nitty-gritty of regulatory or product development requirements, and need to go back to basics. You want a dynamic team who can hit the ground running to slog through the minutia that matters.

START-UPPER

You are starting-up, and dream of disrupting the homeland security market in a way that changes society for the better... but you need more traction/acceleration.

You want help identifying operational test beds to prove you're on to something big.
